Node JS MCQs - 10

Topics : Node js
Written on March 18, 2024

91. What is the purpose of the `res.type()` method in Express.js?

   - A) To set the HTTP status code of the response
   - B) To set the content type of the response
   - C) To send an HTTP response with JSON data
   - D) To send an HTTP response with HTML content

   Answer: B) To set the content type of the response

92. In Express.js, what is the purpose of the `req.app` property?

   - A) To access the application settings
   - B) To access the request headers
   - C) To access the route object
   - D) To access the base URL of the application

   Answer: A) To access the application settings

93. Which of the following middleware is commonly used for logging in Express.js?

   - A) express.json()
   - B) express.static()
   - C) morgan
   - D) express-session

   Answer: C) morgan

94. What is the purpose of the `res.jsonp()` method in Express.js?

   - A) To send a JSON response with padding
   - B) To redirect the client to a new URL
   - C) To send an HTTP response with HTML content
   - D) To send an HTTP response with JSON data

   Answer: A) To send a JSON response with padding

95. In Express.js, what does the `req.subdomains` property contain?

    - A) The request method
    - B) The request headers
    - C) An array of subdomains in the domain name
    - D) The route object

    Answer: C) An array of subdomains in the domain name

96. What is the purpose of the `res.attachment()` method in Express.js?

    - A) To set the HTTP status code of the response
    - B) To attach a file to the response
    - C) To send an HTTP response with JSON data
    - D) To send an HTTP response with HTML content

    Answer: B) To attach a file to the response

97. In Express.js, what is the purpose of the `req.xhr` property?

    - A) To check if the request is an XMLHttpRequest
    - B) To access the request headers
    - C) To access the route object
    - D) To access the base URL of the application

    Answer: A) To check if the request is an XMLHttpRequest

98. Which of the following Express.js methods is used to handle HTTP TRACE requests?

    - A) app.trace()
    - B) app.get()
    - C) app.post()
    - D) app.delete()

    Answer: A) app.trace()

99. What is the purpose of the `res.end()` method in Express.js?

    - A) To send an HTTP response with JSON data
    - B) To end the response process
    - C) To set the HTTP status code of the response
    - D) To redirect the client to a new URL

    Answer: B) To end the response process

100. In Express.js, what is the purpose of the `req.route.path` property?
    - A) To access the request method

    - B) To access the request headers

- C) To access the route path pattern
- D) To access the route object

Answer: C) To access the route path pattern